Projects

ONLINE CODE COMPILATION USING CLOUD COMPUTING

This project introduces an online code editor tailored for beginners and experienced developers alike. Operating as a web application on private cloud computing, it offers full portability and supports languages such as HTML, PHP, CSS, and JavaScript. Key features include syntax highlighting, file management (creation, import/export), and integration with Dropbox. Leveraging the open-source Ace Cloud9 Editor, the research demonstrates its practicality in private cloud computing. A comparison with other cloud-based and PCbased editors underscores its versatility and efficiency.

PERSONAL PORTFOLIO

Explore a selection of projects showcasing my proficiency in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. From responsive web design to interactive user interfaces, each project demonstrates my ability to translate concepts into elegant and functional digital experiences.
